

Information for Participants of the Tiedje Symposium.

Instructions for Posters:

All registrants are welcome to present posters at the symposium. However, the poster format and content will be a little unusual compared to normal scientific symposia. We encourage each presenter to be creative and to add a personal touch when presenting their poster. Some suggestions for poster material include the following:

1. Historical or current overview of the presenter's own research (or other career) (what am I doing now)
2. Links of current research or other career to work done in the past in the Tiedje lab (including pictures if you want to include them)
3. Any other creative or personal presentation is also welcome
4. A traditional meeting poster of your current work (with or without links to your work in the Tiedje lab).

We plan to have sufficient poster boards available for participants to share their work. If you plan a poster, please indicate by sending an email to Walt Esselman at esselmanw@gmail.com. We will tally up the number to be sure that there are sufficient numbers of boards. Latecomers will be accommodated as well (within reason!). (We have at least 50 poster boards on hand.) The typical board size is 48" across by 40" high. If you need a letter indicating that your poster is accepted (for reimbursement purposes) just let me know at esselman@msu.edu or esselmanw@gmail.com

Planning a poster? : confirm by email for a head count to esselmanw@gmail.com

Hotel Information:

Since the Kellogg Center will probably not have sufficient rooms for the symposium, I suggest other hotels that are in East Lansing. The only big hotel within walking distance is the Marriott in East Lansing.
